

Barbara V. Evers

Spreading our wings to fly!

Creating Meaningful "Ah Ha" Moments

A simple request for ladies to step forward and share their stories within a Bible class led Barbara Evers to dig deep and find the courage to share her story with women who didn't know the struggles she had overcome. She found freedom in revealing the difficult elements of her own past, and joy in sharing how it led her to a stronger faith.

Barbara inspires and motivates her audiences to stretch their potential and reach for the pinnacle of their success by sharing stories from her life in an engaging manner. She draws on experiences that touch her audience with inspiration and humor.

Barbara holds a Masters in Professional Communication and works as a trainer, public speaker, and author. She has thirty years' experience in speaking and training and can customize a special experience for your next retreat or workshop. Barbara is a 2013 and 2014 graduate of Advanced Christian Communicators and lives in Greer, SC with her husband, two grandchildren and their rescue dog, Roxy.

Testimonials

Barbara took a very difficult subject and intertwined the Myers Briggs concept into our Women's Retreat. She delivered it with ease and broke down the complex subject in ways that were easy to understand. She had us laughing at ourselves, and she kept us engaged with activities. The way she delivers is second nature to her. We were never bored, in fact, she left us wanting more!

Suzie A., Women's Retreat Coordinator

Barbara is an exceptional and motivating speaker, and I've seen how her encouraging and inspirational words have touched the lives of many. She has a way of incorporating enthusiasm and wittiness in her message and leaves one with a sense of fulfillment. I am truly a product of her encouraging words, and I would not be where I am today had it not been for Barbara.

Evelyn P., Counselor, Word of God Christian Counseling

When we reach beyond ourselves, we're closest to spreading our wings to fly!

Barbara's resilience in the face of despair is an inspiration. As she recalls her journey through personal, social, and familial obstacles, she shares her heart and bares her soul. Her ability to demonstrate empathy and connect with her audience places her apart from those speakers who merely talk to their audiences. Barbara has been there, done that, and came out all the better for it.

Valerie A, Teacher, Non-fiction Writer, Spiritual Advisor

Ministry Topics

Don't Let the Garbage Turn You Into Oscar the Grouch!—As Barbara exposes the amazing works of God in her life, she helps others find their own blessings amid life's trials. She reveals skeletons in her closet, discussing the reality of teenage pregnancy, domestic violence, divorce, single parenting, and much more. No matter what your troubles, the skeletons in your closet will never shock or surprise Barbara.

You're Not Crazy, You're Wired That Way—As a certified instructor of the Myers Briggs Type Indicator, Barbara demonstrates how God wired each of us to relate to others, gather information, handle decisions, and create structure...or not. Participants explore their own traits in a fun and engaging environment while learning to accept others with very different approaches than their own. With the MBTI, Barbara helps participants discover new ways to use their gifts in a way that complements their style.

Say What?—Many times our efforts at communication result in unexpected results. As Christians, these results can be disastrous but not impossible to overcome. Most miscommunication boils down to recognizing the three elements of how we interpret a message. Believe it or not, formal education only teaches one of these, so it's no surprise we all have communication problems. Using fun examples, Barbara will help you learn how to prevent many of these complications in your day-to-day interactions. As an added bonus, she will help teach you how to listen with interest and enthusiasm.

Make Up Your Mind—Let Barbara share the path to understanding how you can believe and not believe at the same time. A man asked Christ to heal his son, but ended up expressing his unbelief. It happened. Journey through Barbara's exploration of this man's words when she faced the same issue after an unexpected accident.

*Looking for something different?
Barbara can customize and develop messages to fit your needs.*

Contact info: 864-414-5693
Barbara@Eversworks.com
TheWorkbenchOfFaith.wordpress.com

